

HOUSE DEMOCRATS NOW FEAR SHOALS

Preference and Patronage Are Bound to Stir Up Lot of Trouble.

LEADERS PLAN PROGRAMME

As the session of Congress approaches rumblings of discontent are heard among Democratic leaders arriving in Washington.

The Northern Democrats, few in number, had to take a back seat in the new House.

It was brought out at a conference yesterday between Speaker Clark and Republican Leader Mann that there will be little or no time available in the session that will begin on Monday for the consideration of anything but strictly routine business.

SOCIETY

Miss Edith Temple Grace. The latter was in white chiffon over hand-painted white satin embroidered with crystals.

Monday has been chosen by the wives of the officers stationed at the navy yard as a day at home, and all during December they will strictly maintain it.

Lady Johnson, wife of the British envoy at The Hague, and her mother, Mrs. Pinchot, have arrived in New York from Washington, and are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Ames H. Pinchot.

Miss Emma N. Oehl and Mr. William L. Smith were married at St. Patrick's rectory Wednesday evening.

Senator and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson will be the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Cunningham Hall, at Westhampton, during the Governor's conference in Richmond, Va., next week.

of entertaining will be done in honor of Senator and Mrs. Swanson.

Miss Fanny Armstrong has returned to her home in Washington after a visit to Mrs. Clarence Whiting at her apartment at Earl Court, Baltimore.

Commissioner and Mrs. Cuno H. Rudolph have returned to Washington after a short visit to New York.

Senator Henry F. Lippitt of Rhode Island and Miss Lippitt will not open their residence in N. Street this winter, but instead will spend the short season of Congress at the New Powhatan, arriving in Washington about December 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Whiteley have closed their country home in Maryland and have come to Washington to spend the winter with Mrs. Whiteley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elch Rhoads, at their residence in Eighteenth Street.

Third Widow, Due to Titanic Wreck, Becomes a Mother

Memories of the sinking of the ill-fated Titanic were recalled to the minds of a number of Washingtonians last night, when word was received here from Cincinnati of the birth of a baby boy to Mrs. Lucien D. Smith, daughter of Representative James A. Hughes of West Virginia, and whose husband gave up his life to save her.

THE NEW BOYS' SHOP

Second Floor of the Greater Palais Royal.

Growing

Like your boy, the New Boys' Shop is growing rapidly. With the shop, it's partly because of the policy adopted with the "Opening" a year ago—to always have the best possible Suits at $5.00.

By linking the New Shop with the leading makers, inducing superiority of finish and contentment, with less than usual profit, relying upon greater business.

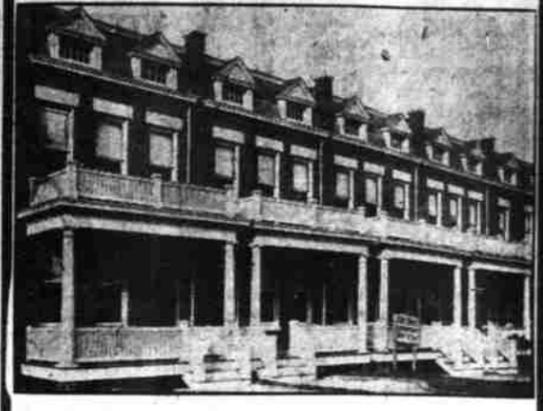

The New Boys' Shop is credited by the makers with distributing more $5.00 Suits than any other two establishments in Washington.

It's so with Overcoats at $7.50. So superior are they that many who have habitually paid $10 are now buying the New Boys' Shop $7.50 Garments.

SUNDAY'S HERALD

Will Be a Complete Sunday Newspaper

SOME OF ITS CONTENTS:

MAGAZINE SECTION The Minister of Police, continuation of remarkable serial; "The Stalking of Pauguk," by Herbert Quick, a short story without a moral; "The Presidential Preference Vote and the Electoral College," by John Walker Holcomb, is a particularly timely topic, as is an article on the Balkans, by Prof. Daniel William O'Donoghue; Col. Morrow and Rene Baehre have contributed two extremely interesting articles; such writers as Ida M. Tarbell, Grace E. Dodge and other well known women are represented on page for "The New Kind of Woman," "The Science and Progress Page," written by the Scientific American for this paper, is one that is attracting universal attention; special page devoted to "Men Who Work With Hand or Brain," two full pages, splendidly illustrated, on Fashions, one devoted to Parisian styles and the other for the home; lovers of Embroidery are given a page of patterns and directions. There are also many other valuable features, and nearly all illustrated.

THE READERS' MAGAZINE

This number is extremely interesting, containing a pathetic short story, "The Inward Flame," a sketch of "The Clubs of Washington," "The Town That Abolished Christmas," "The Shafts of Moonlight," and another chapter of the thrilling serial, "The Auction Royal."

COMIC SUPPLEMENT

No need to tell what this is except to say that the pictures drive away dull care, restore the smile that has been lost, aid digestion, and any one who doesn't at least chuckle over "Claude" better have his liver examined.

SECOND SECTION

Society, Its Doings, Goings and Comings, are told in the most accurate form, not only of Washington, but its various suburbs; Music and Musicians are represented by contributions and special writers; pertinent subjects are discussed of value to every woman, by Mrs. Mann; the doings of social and fraternal associations of Washington are chronicled; the latest books are reviewed by A. D. Jacobson; the past and present week in the theaters are reviewed, and various other subjects of interest are fully represented.

NEWS SECTION

Particular attention is given to this part of the paper, trained newspaper men (not journalists) giving the news of the day, without fear or favor; what is going on in Europe will be fully covered by cable, gathered by a great press association; I. A. Fleming's comments on the business and finances of the country, are acknowledged to be the best ever given to local readers. Nothing is omitted that would make the Sunday paper attractive and newsy. The business announcements will be of particularly great interest to the home and those who are careful of the finances of the family.

SPORTING SECTION.

The Sporting Section will, as usual, contain many interesting features, including Al Machler's page of bowling news and gossip, which has proven to be the sensation of the town among the pin knights. Mr. Machler is an expert, and his comment on the sport is read by the majority of the bowlers of the District.
